

Weekly Newsletter

Welcome Back to the Spring Term. I hope you all had a wonderful half term break and have had the opportunity to enjoy the lovely weather. We have another jam packed half term ahead of us which includes World Book Day, Science Week and Parents' Evening. Appointment times have been sent out to parents and carers and you will have the opportunity to see the tie options as well as a sample of the school coat as part of our uniform consultation with parents/carers.

Mrs Drake, Head of School

Notes & Reminders

World Book Day

The children are invited to dress as characters from traditional tales on Thursday 7th March 2019 to celebrate World Book Day.

e-Safety

You may have heard about the MOMO Challenge. Our advice to parents is to help their children to stay safe online by closely supervising access and crucially, ensuring their children feel they can tell them if they ever encounter anything worrying. As part of our recent Safer Internet Day children were taught to, 'Ask if its okay to do something before you do it'. You may find the following article useful:

<https://parentzone.org.uk/article/three-minute-briefing-momo-challenge> and the poster that has also been emailed to you.

Red Nose Day

On Friday the 15th March the children are invited to come to school in non-school uniform wearing their red noses or other red accessories to support Comic Relief. Please bring in a donation and remember to name any accessories brought into school!

This week on Twitter...

Meet the newest NASA recruits preparing for launch. T minus 20...19...

We have been on a Bear Hunt. We have moved through the long grass and squelched through the mud.
